Current Comment

The death of young Northcott on the gallows was described in the daily press to the last twitch of the swaying body. The morbid public read the account avidly, and a great many of them, probably, were somewhat ill after their perusal of the "story." How much better did writers of other days handle like material! Thus: "To dance to lutes, to dance to flutes is delicate and rare, but it is not sweet with nimble feet to dance upon the air." Instead of a sordid death, hanging, at the pen of the writer quoted, becomes merely a dance; unpleasant, it's true, but still a dance.

That American newspapers are hogs for detail is not to be questioned. A fatal grade crossing accident is an assignment sought eagerly by the modern reporter. It gives him a chance to spread his lurid account of the tragedy over large quantities of valuable front page space and wins him recognition among the other ghouls. Seated near a pool of blood, into which he dips his pen, the reporter casts about him and describes in vivid detail the position of this body and that; chronicles to an eager public the fact that "A" is minus his head, which has probably lodged in a tree nearby. The good reporter will draw for his public an accurate word picture of the spectacle. "B" was severed at the midriff, he will tell you. Sixteen morbidly-curious women, arriving to look over the scene, have just fainted at his feet. The reporter who is really on his toes will pass this important information on to the world in order that it may gag over its matutinal toast and coffee.

A divorce case in which smutty testimony is the order of the day attracts huge crowds. The gentlemen of the press see to it that those who were unable to personally attend are regaled with a detailed account of the grand march through the gutter. Horrible murder trials are recounted at length and with an eye to detail; atrocities conceived by maggotty brains are dished out piping hot to the dear old public. The indiscretions of minor children receive their share of attention. All these things and more are news, seemingly not to be glossed over. Even the better class of newspapers are not immune.

There is one great daily paper, however, in which we find nothing that would offend the eyes of a child. Too, it carries accurate accounts of matters vitally important to all of us. It is clean; it contains practically all the news that's fit to print. It is not devoted to any one religion. It is the Christian Science Monitor. It is barred from the reading table of the Campbell library. Why?

In speeches yesterday before representatives of the American Federation of Labor and the American Legion, President Hoover stressed the fact that the nation is economically sound, and called for co-operation and team-work to end the depression. Destructive competition came in for its well-deserved share of criticism. Mr. Hoover's remarks may well be brought home to Campbell—particularly his call for co-operation. The business men of this village can stand quite a "A" is minus hi shead, which all too intent upon our own troubles to even care about what is threatening the other fellow. Small town business men cannot afford to exclude from consideration his fellow "mainstreeters." We are all faced with unfair competition in the nearby cities, and if we don't band together for mutual protection, what will be the ultimate result? A town starving to death between cannery seasons. There are a number of inducements to be offered the buying public. They could be worked out in Campbell very nicely—but it would require co-operation—plenty of it. It would make all the difference between a wolf fight and a flock of lambs at play.

That's all.

AMERICAN TRUST OFFICIAL GETS IMPORTANT POST

R. M. Sims, vice president and trust officer of the American Trust company, has been honored by members of the trust company division, American Bankers' association, meeting last week in Cleveland, by being unanimously elected chairman of their executive committee, according to word received here today by R. G. Archibald, head of the Campbell office of the trust company.

His election, declared Archibald, comes as national recognition of Sims' outstanding ability and experience in the trust field ,and also marks the first time this post has been held by a western trust officer.

Sims has been trust officer of the American Trust company for more than twenty years and has developed one of the foremost department so f the country. In addition to his duties as a membe r of important committees of the Bankers' association, he has also served as president of the state trust association and chairman of many regional trust conferences.

FOOTBALL TRAFFIC AT STANFORD TO BE MAPPED OUT

Sacramento, Oct. 7—Plans for providing highway traffic protection for the vast crowds expected to attend 'big games' at Stanford university during the current football season were announced today by Eugene W. Biscailuz, superintendent of the California highway patrol.

Plans for the patrol center primarily on the games between Stanford and U. S. C. on Oct. 25, Stanford and Washington, Nov. 8, and Stanford and Dartsmouth, Nov. 29. Huge throngs are expected at all of these games.

Biscailuz explained the problem of handling traffic for these games will be a particularly trying one inasmuch as the Peninsula highway is the only main artery running past the Stanford bowl.

Mrs. Herold Morton Entertains At Bridge-Luncheon Wednesday

Mrs. Herold W. Morton with co-hostess, Mrs. Frank Plummer of San Jose, entertained last Wednesday afternoon at a lovely luncheon and bridge party at the Morton home on East Campbell avenue.

Luncheon was served at small tables prettily decorated in orchid, pink and green, with centerpieces consisting of French bouquets of flowers of the same colors.

The twenty luncheon guests remained through the afternoon to participate in the bridge game.

Rebekahs Will Stage Card Party Saturday, October 25

The Ada Rebekah lodge of Campbell will hold a card party and dance Saturday evening, Oct. 25, at the Odd Fellows hall. Bridge and whist are the card games ,which will be followed by dancing.

The committee in charge of the entertainment consists of Mr. and Mrs. James Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bachman, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Snow, Lillian Ohlen and Josephine LaBarbera. Tickets may be obtained at Lea's store, from the noble grand, Josephine LaBarbera, or any member of the committee.

Beautiful prizes are to be given and refreshments served by the committee.

PERCY DUNLAP ESCAPES INJURY IN AUTO WRECK

Friday night Percy H. Dunlap, whose wife and small son are visiting in Los Angeles, set out to visit his folks near Watsonville. Taking a short cut through the hills, Mr. Dunlap encountered another machine at a narrow place in the road, and moving over toward the outside as far as he thought safe, they attempted to pass. Percy maneuvered past the other car only to feel the edge of the road giving way beneath the wheels of his car—and over it went, making two complete turns down a steep bank. The local radio man rode it out all the way and was able to crawl out of the wreckage and re-assure the driver of the other car that he was all right. Dunlap's car was damaged considerably, but he himslf escaped unscathed.

CAMPBELL NINE IS WINNER OVER SAN JOSE MOOSE SUN.

One of the best ball games of the season was witnessed by baseball fans of this locality when Campbell nosed out the Moose in an 11 inning game Sunday on the Campbell diamond. Padilla made the first run for the local team in the second inning of the game, when he knocked the ball for a home run. Then the Moose brightened up and got a one run lead on Campbell, only to be tied by the locals. The score stood 2-2 until the eleventh inning when Brayovich scored a three-base hit and came home when Sax tried to get him at the plate and threw the ball into the stand instead of into the catcher's mit.

Athenour pitched the entire game and allowed seven hits, two runs and struck out seven men. Double plays were Lannotti to Bonni to Padilla and Bonni to Lannotti to Padilla. A two-bagger was knocked by Stanley. Sax pitched a good game for the Moose, allowing 11 hits, three runs, and struck out three men.

E. C. ABBOTT LAID AT REST FRIDAY

Funeral services were held Friday, Oct. 3, for E. C. Abbott from the chapel of Hocking & Williams, with interment at Olivet Memorial park.

Dr. Abbott's death came Wednesday after an illness of only a few days, and it came as a shock to his many friends in San Jose and Campbell, despite the fact that his health had been poor for several months.

Dr. Abbott was 77 years old and had lived in this territory for 14 years, having moved here from Massachusetts for his health. He was a member of the San Jose Grange, a past master of the Orchard City Grange and past lecturer of the state Grange and an active member of the Masonic order. He was a very enthusiastic worker in the Congregational church.

Surviving are his widow, Alice M. Abbott, a son, Dr. E. A. Abbott, two daughters, Alice Abbott and Mrs. Hazel F. Friar of Berkeley, and 14 grandchildren. Two sons, Dr. C. E. Abbott and Aldon H. Abbott, preceded him in death.

The Friendship club of the Congregational church will meet with Miss Sadie Maxon Wednesday evening.

CONTESTANTS IN LAST BIG EFFORT FOR PRIZES

Yes, just seven more days and the Campbell Press' big campaign will be ended. After that day and date it will have become a matter of history—a bright page in the history of Campbell and vicinity. The mighty question now before the contestants is: How are these few days to be spent? In order to win, every available moment must be spent to the best possible advantage. There is no reason why these last few days should not be the big days of the contest. No relaxation of effort, no turning of heads to see who is just behind can be possible for the winners. One single lost motion now might mean the difference between that beautiful Ford Sport Coupe and a cash commission.

JUDGES TO BE NAMED

Contestants are asked to bring in the names of the judges they wish to have act for them on the final count, to the contest manager's office this week.

Here is one important fact that contestants and their friends and supporters must remember distinctly: Nothing except cash, certified checks and currency deposited in the ballot box will be accepted. No personal checks will be accepted unless approved by the management of the Press. Contestants and their friends are urged to keep this in mind during the closing days of the big competitive race. Only a few more days in which contestants may better their standing. Upon these few days of work will depend the final outcome of the contest which has held the attention of the community for the past few weeks.

Merely one ten year subscription or a big advertising contract may spell the difference between the winners of the grand prizes. When the clock strikes 8 Wednesday evening, Oct. 15, a lull will come in the animated conversation of the contestants at campaign headquarters. No more subscriptions, no more advertising and job printing contracts, no more votes can or will be accepted.

One too few then will be one too late. The judges will have closed the seal box and the contest will be over except for the final tabulation of standings and the awarding of the Big Prizes.

Remember, contestants, that it's work that wins, not wishes.

Following is the standing of the contestants:

Josephine LaBarbera	555,000
Jessie Silberbauer	549,000
Abbie Morgan	540,000
Mrs. Leonard Shadle	540,000
Rose Abinante	435,000
Mildred Cook	379,000

Speed will win—remember, the prizes are yet to be won!

Country Women Hear Bernice Downing On Trip to Mexico

Following a short business meeting at which Mrs. M. E. Purmort, president, presided, the Country Woman's club, with a large group of guests, enjoyed a very interesting program.

Mrs. C. H. Whitman, chairman, presented Mr. and Mrs. Homer DeWitt Pugh of San Jose, well known and popular musicians. Mr. Pugh's selections were "Come Beloved" by Handel, and "Take Joy Home" by Bassett. He responded to an enthusiastic encore with "The Crying of Water, by Lipton. Mrs. Pugh was his accompanist.

Miss Bernice Downing, postmistress of Santa Clara and former owner and editor of the Santa Clara Journal, who was a member of the California State Press association party that visited the Mexican republic last January was then introduced and gave a most illuminating and entertaining account of her trip. Her chief desire has been to see the life of the peon class and study conditions, so that was the side she dwelt upon. Other interesting items described were the "floating gardens," hotels, "Thieves Market" and some of the industrial plants.

The temperature of the day made it possible to easily imagine oneself in a tropical country.

Other members of the committee were Mesdames Elizabeth Duncan and W. W. Sibley, and they had assisted in arranging the lovely decorations of zinnias, marigolds and dahlias.

Mrs. R. H. Hyde announced that Dr. A. E. Osborne will speak at the next meeting on early history of California, and its romance.

Unique Vesper Service Planned At Congregational Church Sunday

Sunday evening at 7:45 at the Congregational church an unusual and unique service will be given. One-half hour of vesper music will be rendered by the choir, the members of which will be gathered around the beautiful window, and their theme will be "The Good Shepherd." The window will be lighted and the rest of the church will be in darkness. Mrs. W. K. Sword is the choir leader and Clarence Robinson the organist.

The program is as follows:

The Lord's prayer, intoned by the choir; "The Lord is My Shepherd," choir with alto solo; duett, "Love Divine," Mrs. Sword and Stephen eMrrill; quartette, "Come Unto Me," Stephen Merrill, Mrs. Sword, Mrs. Donald Page and Dr. W. I. Merrill; "He Shall Feed His Flock," Mrs. Donald Page, and "Now the Day Is Over," the choir.

The subject of the talk by the Rev. J. H. Bennett will be the "Good Shepherd." An offering will be taken.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend this specially arranged vesper service.

The next basketball game on the local high school schedule is slated for Friday night, Oct. 10, with Palo Alto, at the local gym at 7:30.

Horace Lea and son Lealand returned Sunday from a two-weeks' deer hunting trip at Adin in Modoc county.

COMMUNITY CHEST WILL ASK FOR LESS; LAST YEAR R'SERVE

At a meeting of the directors and officers of the Campbell Community Chest drive Saturdayevening at the local Water company office, the chest budget was set at $2,250, $750 less than last year because of a surplus of the latter amount.

The same apportionment plan is being used again this year; one-third to the county chest, $400 for the Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, $400 for the Campbell Relief society, $600 for the Campbell Library association and $100 for emergencies.

With Ralph Hyde president, and Carl Field campaign manager, a very lively campaign is looked forward to, with no thought of failure of any unit of the local organization.

UNITED STATES MARINE BAND TO PLAY AT S. F.

The city of San Francisco has made special arrangements to bring the Marine band of Washington, D. C., known as the president's band, to San Francisco, so that the people of northern California may hear the foremost among the military and concert bands of this country. The United States Marine band is the premier military musical organization at the national capitol where it plays for all the big state functions at the White House.

This band has hardly ever left Washington and this will be one of the first occasions when the people of California will enjoy the excellent playing of this organization. There is no more brilliant and inspiring sight than this aggregation of talented musicians with their scarlet coats and highly polished instruments. Every member is not only a citizen of the United States, but a musician of unusual ability, having been compelled to pass the most rigid tests before being accepted.

The band will give two concerts in San Francisco on Sunday, Oct. 19, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. The price of admission will be 25 cents for the former and 50 cents for the latter. This nominal fee will enable the excellent high school bands of California to take advantage of the visit of this expert military band to hear a great variety of band music played in exemplary fashion.

J. Emmet Hayden, chairman of the auditorium committee of the board of supervisors, under whose auspices the concert sare being given, reports gerat interest in the visit of the president's band and states that President Hoover has granted permission for the present concert tour by the United States Marine band. The city administration as well as the military authorities of the Presidio are making arrangements to extend to the band a hearty official welcome.

Funeral Service For Alfred F. Hill Held Monday Afternoon

Funeral services were held Monday from the chapel of Gummer & Boulware for Alfred F. Hills, who passed away Oct. 3 at the state hospital at Agnew, where he had been a patient for several weeks. Rev. J. H. Bennett preached the service.

Mr. Hills was a native of Vermont, 85 years of age and very well known in Campbell, having lived on Johnson avenue with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Williams for several years. He was an active member of the Congregational church here. He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Williams. Mrs. Hills preceded him in death some time ago.

The Old Grizzly, heralded by prayerful California zealots as bigger and tougher than ever, withered like a scorched cabbage-head last Saturday under the first real fire experienced, and the Washington state Cougars capered home with a delicious 16-0 grid triumph. "Brick" Morse should have something to say on this.

—o—

Big football, as played at U. S. C, Stanford and California, has already taken one on the chin, and it is quite probable that there will continue to be colossal "upsets" just so long as the California pigskin following, oblivious of the booming northern threat, adds to the exclusive palisade of "traditional strife" which, unreasonably, seems to have enveloped the Trinity already.

—o—

California, according to what meagre logic can be deduced from the turmoil, should have another miserable afternoon against St. Mary's Saturday, but may eke out a win if the effect of last week's game is psychologically, propituous.

—o—

At the same time, U. S. C. will be engaging Washington State in "modified murder" on the latter's own field, and the result should be very interesting since it will serve to show the relative strength of the Big Three.

—o—

Meanwhile, the Stanford "success boys" who are, by prediction, capable of four touchdowns against Santa Clara and who probably would have sold-out for a place-kick in the first half, journey to Minnesota, where they are expected to "rest comparatively easy over the week-end."

—o—

"Chuck" Erborn and Ray Dawson, Stanford tackle and guard respectively, play on the same side of the line, belong to the same fraternity, are inseparable off the gridiron, and now both are making a strong bid for All-Coast honors. The work of this pair against the Bronchos was a feature of the game.

—o—

Young Corbett, conqueror of two champions and by mutual concedence the best welterweight in the world today, is still chasing the evanescent official title with two to one odds against him realizing a chance at it. If Corbett is able to preserve his transient loans of youth and vigor, and lives long enough, he may yet be monarch of welterweights. Remember the patriarchs.

—o—

Qualifying for president becomes a cinch when compared with the exhorbitant demands a boxing championship candidate faces. Evidently a good pug doesn't qualify unless he will submit to amputation or agree to assume the horizontal at the first smell of leather.

—o—

George Von Ehn, aged in competitive golfing, recently delivered a highly indignant discourse on amateur golf in which he asserted it cost him $10,000 annually to compete in the American and British amateurs and Walker cup, in consideration of which he is not one dollar of expense money. George should be a $4-a-day man and then his loss would be practically negligible.

—o—

Whoever said "it wasn't in the Cards" overlooked the fact that the St. Louis club never disappointed the home-towners.

Merle Shaver returned to her home in Auburn last week after a month's visit with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bachman.

Rebekahs Meet In Enjoyable Session

Martha Phillips, Ada Coupland and Emma Main were in charge of the social hour at the regular meeting of the Ada Rebekah lodge this evening. Cards and refreshments were enjoyed after the business session.

One candidate was ballotted upon and plans were discussed for initiation some time in November. The drill team was chosen by the noble grand, Josephine LaBarbera.

Reports were given on the district school of instruction held Saturday afternoon in the Odd Fellows hall in San Jose and presided over by Vice President Lucy E. Dake of the Rebekah assembly. Reports were also made on the district initiation that was held at the Knights of Columbus hall in San Jose Saturday evening.

The next regular meeting of the lodge will be Tuesday, Oct. 21, and the committee in charge of the social hour will be Buelah Covey, Miriam Dunlap, June Rice and Al Covey.

The many friends of Mrs. M. J. Palmer, who is now at her home, will regret to hear that although convalescing, her improvement is not as rapid as could be wished.

After the regular meeting of the Barnes Encampment last Wednesday evening the members presentwere guests of H. C. Bloom at the Campbell theater.

KIWANIS NOTES
By Heck

Ed Genasci, local fire chief, gave an interesting story of the development of fire fighting from the bucket brigade to the modern booster pump. He explained the various chemicals used and the relative effect on fires. He expressed the need of new apparatus as the community has outgrown some of the present equipment.

He stated that about 80 per cent of the fires are to a degree preventable and that most fires are caused by carlessness or accumulation of rubbish. Now that cooler weather is coming on (?) when more heat is required in the home, greater care should be exercised in the matter of fire prevention in the homes.

B. O. Curry as chairman thought the music was not so hot as to set the world afire. Righto, B-O. Next Tuesday will be a closed meeting to discuss some of the local club and community problems.

Several visitors from San Jose and Los Gatos clubs were present today.

Sea Scouts Want Toys And Games To Fix For Unfortunates' Xmas

The Campbell Sea Scouts are planning to make this Christmas a happy one for children who are ill and have no one to provide for their holiday. If you have old toys, games, puzzles or books you are invited to give them to the scouts in order that they may be repaired and painted up to present a cheerful appearance.

Call Campbell 71-J—ask for the Sea Scout skipper, and he will see to it that someone calls for anything you have to give.

Enrollment Of Cub Scouts Very Heavy

The cub scouts are going strong again this year. The enrollment is now 30 cubs, with five Boy Scouts as assistants to Mr. Bennett. All the cubs are looking forward to a very interesting and enjoyable year.

The Boy Scouts will be enrolled for the coming season's work this Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Jerome Pope is the assistant scoutmaster to Mr. Bennett, who states that better work and more advancement will be forthcoming now that he has someone to help him, and the boys will receive more personal attention than heretofore.

MORE LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. William Starbuck of San Francisco have moved into the corner house of the Hedegard subdivision and expect to make their home here for an indefinite period.

—o—

Ira R. Abbott returned Thursday evening from a week at Tahoe where he attended the convention of school superintendents.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cutting and Mrs. T. A. Cutting attended the Congregational congress in Berkeley Wednesday.
